

ARMED FORCES DAY

26 JUNE 2021

The Armed Forces Covenant is a promise from the nation to those who serve. It says we will do all we can to ensure they are treated fairly and not disadvantaged in their day-to-day lives. This includes offering injured servicemen and women and bereaved families extra support where appropriate.

ERS Medical is proud to be a forces-friendly employer and has been awarded the Armed Forces Covenant Employer Recognition Scheme Silver Award. This award demonstrates our support for service personnel through employment and actively communicating and upholding a positive stance to our employees through HR policies and processes.

Case Study

Armed Forces Day 2021

“ERS Medical is a brilliantly supportive company, and I couldn't ask for better. They provide time off for military training and holidays, so I get the best of both worlds. I can contribute to the NHS with my role as an ACA and I can proudly serve my country as a Reservist.

My managers and the wider team at ERS totally understand the balance between military and civilian life and continuously support me, no matter what.

In both roles, I've received training that has helped me in many ways. As a junior non-commissioned officer, I've gained confidence and a teamwork ethos that I've brought to ERS. And in my role as an ACA, I've gained many transferable skills such as learning to be more observant with my training in Patient Observation Skills, recognising and managing stress through my Mental Health training and having important skills with my first-aid qualifications.”

Mark Merriman, Head of Operations at ERS Medical says:

“David has been a part of the ERS Medical team for over six years and we're very pleased to be able to support him in his Reserve service. He gained his driving qualifications through the army, which he has been able to apply to his ACA role at ERS.

ERS Medical completely supports service personnel with time off for training and deployment. We know they are providing an invaluable service, so we want our Reservist employees to rest assured that when they complete their service and are ready to return to civilian life, they have their job waiting for them at ERS.”
